

"I believe relationships are the fundamental building blocks of all things we create. Without individuals working together to achieve results, countless hours are wasted with little to show. No one individual can achieve real success without a team to work alongside them."

Bellevue, Washington

As General Manager of the Bellevue / Eastside Portfolio for Urban Renaissance Group, Craig Glazier has overall responsibility for the portfolio's operations and value-add activities. Overseeing almost 2.0 million square feet of assets in CBD and suburban locations for five different ownerships, he manages a diverse base of tenants and clients.

Prior to joining Urban Renaissance Group, Craig was the founder and owner of DesertScape Properties which developed, leased, owned and managed office and mixed-use retail properties in central Oregon. He also was directly responsible for land development, private capital raising efforts, leverage management and asset management. Prior to his entrepreneurial endeavors, Craig was the Market Officer and General Manager for Unico Properties from 2000 to 2004 in the Portland market. From 1995 to 2000, Craig served various roles for Unico, including Financial Analyst, director of leasing and Construction Manager. His diverse background serves him well in his current position with URG.
